Born in Norristown, GA in 1936, she was the daughter of Elige and Edna Earl Durden Williamson. She was a seamstress by trade and worked at Creston's Knitting Mill, Swainsboro Sportswear and Woolen Mill in Dublin, GA until they closed. She had a sewing room in her home and enjoyed making dolls for her granddaughter. She was a past member of the Swainsboro Primitive Baptist Church and attended Canoochee Missionary Baptist Church. In the late 60's, early 70's, Janis was an Eastern Star. She loved fishing and dancing and always staying busy. Janis was a homemaker whenever she was not working outside the home and she loved classic country music and gospel. Janis adored her dog Gracie. She was preceded in death by a daughter, Phyllis Lawanna Dixon and a brother, Bobby Williamson.
